OUR MISSION

This is a day for musicians to celebrate other musicians, and for West Virginians to celebrate everything their state has to offer. We hope to provide an environment for collaboration between performers and a relaxed, family friendly environment for music, food, and craft beer fans from all walks of life to come together for some great music and to support WV Public Broadcasting, WV Collective, and the local arts community

WVPubfest has donated a total of $10,000 to WV Public Broadcasting in 2018 and 2019 in addition to supporting WVCollective's continued artistic endeavors.
